WATSON Dairy Consulting

I am happy to have been involved in a major new infant formula factory project with Watson Dairy Consulting.

John Watson managed the project from start to completion and was the main liaison between all suppliers, ensuring that delivery and quality was as required by the project.

As the turnkey factory project provider, we are very happy with the professional manner in which Watson Dairy Consulting looked after the interests of the suppliers and the client, whilst also implementing exceptional project management, manufacturing, engineering, training and quality systems at the plant, ensuring its success as a leading infant Formula Manufacturer in the Middle East.
